SELECTED KEYNOTE AND WORKSHOP TOPICS

TALKING TO A JURY—EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION IN THE COURTROOM: We all think and learn in different ways. It is those differences that can make it challenging for a juror to fully understand courtroom testimony. This interactive session examines the basic concepts of adult learning and the principles of accelerated learning to demonstrate how courtroom advocates can be more effective in communicating their message.

TREATMENT COURTS CHANGING LIVES AND MAKING A DIFFERENCE: Treatment Courts focus on recovery and accountability of persons with substance use disorders. This session outlines the concept and development of Treatment Courts and provides the research of their effectiveness. Also discussed are the critical components for a successful Treatment Court and the available tools to improve a court's effectiveness.

BUILDING A SAFETY CULTURE: Developing a company traffic safety culture goes beyond what the law requires. It also can reduce the risk your employees face and, at the same time, protect the company's bottom line. It's a win-win situation. This session examines the need to create a company safety culture and delineates the steps necessary to a successful effort.

PROMOTING JUSTICE WORLDWIDE

A pioneer in traffic safety, David Wallace developed the first Traffic Safety Resource Prosecutor (TSRP) program in Michigan, becoming a national role model. As a TSRP, he facilitated a coordinated, multidisciplinary approach to the arrest and prosecution of impaired drivers and other traffic crimes, training prosecutors and law enforcement alike.

In 2008, Mr. Wallace became the first Director of the National Center for DWI Courts (NCDC) and oversaw a nationwide increase of 50% in the number of DWI Courts changing repeat impaired drivers into law-abiding citizens. As the NCDC Director he trained new multi-jurisdictional teams on how to implement and operate an effective DWI Court; provided technical assistance to established DWI Courts; participated in national media events; lobbied national and state legislators to expand DWI Courts; and collaborated with a broad range of stakeholders to implement and support these lifesaving programs.

Now back in the courtroom as a Chief Assistant Prosecutor, with over 20 years' experience, 7 years as a TSRP and 5 years as the Director of the NCDC, Mr. Wallace has worked with law enforcement officers, prosecutors, judges, probation officers, treatment professionals, highway safety advocates and others, bringing a complete perspective on what needs to be done in making communities safer.
